YOUNG PEOPLE SECRETLY WEDDED

GEORGE REESE AND HARRIET DAVIS MARRIED.

Ceremony Was Performed at Bloomsburg Last Friday—Disturbances on North Main Avenue—Two Young Ladies Visiting Here Who Are Making a Trip Around the World.

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of George Reese, of Washington street, and Miss Harriet Davis, of Buffalo, N. Y., which occurred at Bloomsburg last Friday afternoon in the presence of the bride's relatives. Both are well known young people and their marriage will cause no little surprise.

The groom is the youngest son of John Reese, the South Main avenue grocer, and until a short time ago worked in the store, but a few weeks ago suddenly disappeared and nothing was heard of him until Saturday, when his parents learned of the marriage.

The bride formerly conducted a flower store on South Main avenue and created considerable talk about a year ago by having young Reese arrested on a serious charge. When the case was about to be tried a settlement was effected and then the young woman left the city.

She removed to Buffalo, where her relatives reside, and nothing more was heard of her until recently, when she went to Bloomsburg to visit relatives. Her sweetheart, it is said, kept up a correspondence with her ever since she went away.

The couple were to have been married after their case was settled, but for some unknown reason the groom failed to put in an appearance.

The first intimation Reese's relatives had of the marriage was when his brother, Frank, was notified on Saturday, and he immediately communicated with the clerk of the courts of Columbia county and learned that the couple had secured a marriage license from him at 2.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

It is understood that the young couple will make their home in Buffalo.

A Disturbance.
John Yerkes, residing at 347 North Tremont avenue, was arrested by Patrolman Lowry last evening for creating a disturbance in the Exchange hotel. He was locked up in the station house and will be given a hearing this morning.

Another disturbance was created at the corner of Price street and North Main avenue last evening, when a number of young men engaged in a rough and tumble fight. A large crowd was attracted to the scene, but no arrests were made.

Trip Around the World.
Misses Elizabeth and Margaret McGhie, residents of Maryborough, Queensland, Australia, are visiting their uncle, Andrew B. Holmes, of South Main avenue. The young ladies are taking a trip around the world, and will spend the winter in this city. They have already been away from home five months and during that time visited England, Ireland, Scotland and many other places of interest. They will cross the continent on their return and sail from San Francisco, visiting the Hawaiian Islands and other places before reaching home.

The funeral of the late Evan T. Williams will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the house, 1212 Eynon street. Interment will be made in the Washington street cemetery.

The cow turned on her and tossed the child up in the air, one horn making a deep wound in the child's stomach. Mrs. Joseph Lovelace, who lives in the other side of the house, heard the child scream, but by the time she had reached her the child was unconscious. A physician was summoned, who put the stitches in the wound.

Woman's Burdens

are many. On every side they cry out for relief. Hundreds have come to believe that there is no cure for the distressing ailments that sap beauty and life.

This is an error. There is a cure for everything. If one medicine does not relieve, it is the wrong one. This is simple common sense.

Most womanly derangements spring from congestion or a catarrhal irritation of the mucous membrane lining the pelvic organs. The remedy which reaches, heals and strengthens this delicate lining, will stop the weakening drains, correct painful irregularities, heal all inflammation, and irritation.

Such a medicine is Pe-r-u-na. Hundreds of strong, healthy women can testify to its wonderful efficiency. It is just as good for the girl in the teens as it is for her mother, and it will prove an excellent tonic for both.

Pe-r-u-na is not an experiment. Its result is not an uncertainty. It lives up to its claims, and faithfully used rarely fails to effect a permanent cure.

A fair trial will prove this. For a free copy of "HEALTH AND BEAUTY" address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

street, as reported, will discontinue his business.

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fries, of Prescott avenue, is quite ill. The little child of Benjamin Parsons, of Thompson street, who has been seriously ill, is improving.

THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET.

Members of Baptist Ministers' Conference Dined Yesterday.

The members of the Baptist pastors' conference and their wives enjoyed their annual banquet yesterday at Mitchell's dining room, on North Washington avenue. A splendid dinner was served from 1.30 to 2.30, and when the good things had been disposed of the guests repaired to Gurnsey hall, upstairs, where a delightful social hour was spent.

Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, D. D., pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, gave a wonderfully interesting talk on "Some Religious Aspects in Europe." The doctor has just returned from an extensive European tour, and he gave a most graphic description of all the splendid cathedrals he visited in France and sunny Italy. He also described at some length the various religious ceremonies which he had witnessed.

At the conclusion of Dr. Pierce's talk a number of the delegates presented made brief impromptu addresses on various topics. Rev. S. F. Matthews, pastor of the First Baptist church and vice-president of the conference, presided, the president, Rev. S. G. Roadling, D. D., having moved from the city.

At the regular weekly business meeting to be held next Monday morning, Rev. Mr. Matthews will probably be elected president.

Those present at yesterday's banquet and after meeting were as follows: Rev. S. F. Matthews, Rev. J. A. Evans, Rev. W. J. Ford and wife, and Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, D. D., and wife, of Scranton; Rev. C. A. Spaulding, of Hollisterville; Rev. R. R. Thompson and wife, of Dalton; Rev. H. B. East, of Clark's Green; Rev. H. J. Whalen and wife, of Carbondale; Rev. J. S. Thomas, of Beckville; Rev. D. J. Williams, of Olyphant; Rev. J. L. Williams, of Forest City; Rev. P. L. Frey and wife, of Elmhurst; Rev. Thomas Baker and wife, of Scott Valley; Rev. H. H. Harris, of Taylor; Rev. J. L. Knaemer, of Dunmore; and Rev. Dr. Dunn, of Hilldale, Michigan.

A TENDERLOIN POETESS.

Annie May Begged Patrolman Karis to Lock Her Up.

Patrolman Fred Karis was accosted early yesterday morning by a sad looking woman who remarked in tearful accents: "Officer, please lock me up for street walking. I have no place to sleep and have been in a box car all day." The good-natured blue-coat took the damsel to the Center street police station, where she proved very grateful for his kindness, as she persisted in reciting poetry in spite of Sergeant Jones' request to desist. The poetry was of the nature that Sappho used to recite in the ancient Grecian days.

In police court yesterday morning the forlorn poetess gave her name as Annie May and was sent to the county jail for a short confinement.

FUNERAL OF MISS S. A. COLLINS.

Services Were Held at the Hubert Residence.

The funeral of Miss S. A. Collins took place last evening at the home of her brother-in-law, N. A. Hubert, on Jefferson avenue. Many friends were in attendance and flowers in profusion testified of kind memories of the dead. Rev. Dr. McLeod officiated.

Miss Collins was a teacher in the public schools of this city for many years and her ideas were of a high standard and the respect and affection of many friends followed her to the grave. The interment will be made this morning at Hamilton, Wayne county.

SOUTH SCRANTON

REV. J. BRADSHAW TO LECTURE THIS EVENING.

He Will Speak at the Cedar Avenue Church on "American Patriotism." Scranton Athletic Club's Athletes Getting Into Shape—Many Complaints of Gangs of Young Rowdies—Ladders of the Life Saving Corps Found to Be Too Heavy. Other News Notes and Personals.

This evening the people's lecture course, conducted under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Paul of the Cedar Avenue Methodist church, opens with a lecture by Rev. J. Bradshaw, Ph. D., of Nanticoke, on "American Patriotism."

Mr. Bradshaw is a noted lecturer and, as this is a favorite and hot topic for him, those not hearing it will miss a great treat. An unusually large number of course tickets have already been sold, thus demonstrating that it is to be a popular and educational form of entertainment. Tickets good for the entire course, consisting of three lectures and a grand concert, can be secured from the members of the brotherhood. Rev. A. J. Van Cleft, of Dunmore, will deliver the second lecture in the course on "Abraham Lincoln, America's Greatest Son," Thursday evening, Oct. 14.

Tuning Exercises Held.
The Scranton Athletic club held their weekly tuning exercises last night before a large and enthusiastic audience, which was well pleased with their many difficult and dangerous stunts. The boys, under the efficient training of Victor North, are rapidly rounding into form and their superb stunts are disappearing like snow before spring rain. Sometime the last of October or the first of November they are going to give an exhibition drill and entertainment, which partly accounts for their assiduous practice.

NUDS OF NEWS.
Gangs of mischievous boys are becoming a decided nuisance in this section of the city and parents with any regard for themselves or children should not allow boys of extremely tender age to roam the streets howling like hyenas and making themselves generally obnoxious. Aside from making things disagreeable by their unruly scolding they are fast learning pilfering, as was the case reported yesterday. Residents in the vicinity of Brook street and Pittston avenue are nightly annoyed by a certain gang that take extreme pleasure in rolling an empty beer keg down the sidewalk on Brook street after dark, both an annoying and dangerous sport to pedestrians. Trees and fences are often damaged in this manner.

The ladders received Saturday by the William Connell Life Saving corps, made by the Gilbey-Wagon company, were found to be top heavy, weighing fifty to seventy pounds each, which is a tremendous weight to handle in mid-air. They were therefore returned to be fitted with lighter iron hooks. The gun and the net have not been received yet, and the lack of the necessary accoutrements has delayed practice somewhat. They, however, expect to be fully prepared for their exhibition at the next annual inspection.

Max, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ledwith, was buried yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Minooka cemetery.

Karl Wopolski, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wopolski, of Prospect avenue, was buried Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Junger Maennervor attended the birthday reception of Paul Clements, in Taylor, last evening. Mr. Clements is one of their active members.

FALL MEETING OF THE C. E. S.

It Will Be Held on October 9 Probably in North Scranton.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the City Christian Endeavor union, held last night in Grace Reformed church, a great deal of the time was spent in arranging for the fall meeting of the city union, to be held on October 9. A place of meeting has not yet been decided upon, but it is more than probable that it will be held in the North Main Avenue Baptist church.

It was thought that the current question would be discussed last night, but it was decided to leave this question until the fall meeting, when it will be fully discussed.

Chairman A. B. Dunning, of the good government committee, reported that he had succeeded in having Sunday base ball playing stopped in all parts of the county, having secured the cooperation of all burgesses. It was announced that the city union would soon take up the nuisance of Sunday paper crying.

Much indignation was expressed by the members of the committee at what they deem to be uncalled for criticism of their doings in some of the city papers. Special notice was given after the meeting, one of the prominent members said:

"It was the consensus of opinion at the meeting that the efforts of Christian people along the lines of the sup-

TO INSPECT RETAINING WALL.

Commissioner Thinks Ninth Street Wall Should Be Extended.

The joint streets and bridges committee of councils will meet this afternoon, and accompanied by Street Commissioner Thomas and City Engineer Phillips will inspect the Ninth street retaining wall.

This inspection is to be made at the suggestion of Street Commissioner Thomas, who believes that the retaining wall should be extended quite a distance further south than it does, in order to prevent the undermining of Jackson street at this point. The committee will render its counsel upon the advisability of making such an extension.
